

Discovery Technologies 2018

Alderley Park, Cheshire
22nd - 23rd May 2018

Discovery Technologies: Mass Spectrometry & Organ on a Chip

ELRIG are pleased to invite you to the inaugural Discovery Technologies Meeting. This exciting new ELRIG meeting will focus on the application of novel and emerging technologies that are reshaping the drug discovery paradigm. For 2018, the conference will include two parallel sessions:

Advances in Mass Spectrometry Advances in Organ-on-a-Chip Technologies

During this conference, researchers from top academic and industrial laboratories will discuss advances and case studies in these two rapid evolving research areas. In addition to the outstanding speaker program and exhibition at the main meeting on the 23rd, there will also be vendor workshops on the 22nd, along with the opportunity to network at the exhibition and gain strategic insights into potential solutions for increasing the success of drug discovery and development in your organisation.

This is a must-attend event to learn about the latest trends and new state-of-the-art technologies for drug discovery!

Conference Director: Melanie Leveridge (GlaxoSmithKline)

Session Chairs

Mass Spectrometry: Jonathan Wingfield (AstraZeneca) & Peter Marshall (GlaxoSmithKline)

Organ on a chip: Eric Tang (TEK Biomedical Consultancy) & Emma Sceats (CN Bio Innovations)

Plenary Keynote Speaker

Professor John Wikswø
Gordon A. Cain University
Professor & Founding
Director of Vanderbilt
