

Research & Innovation 2018

New Biology, New Targets

Homerton College, Cambridge

17th -18th April 2018

Conference Directors

Mark Wigglesworth (AstraZeneca) & Mike Kerins (Cambridge Bioscience)

ELRIG's Research & Innovation 2018 will involve an outstanding group of academic and industrial researchers heading tracks on topics that can be expected to have profound effects on the discovery and development of new treatments in years to come. Participating in this year's meeting will enable you to learn about new research taking place at the forefront of target validation and prosecution and will focus on Oncology and Neuroscience. Scientific sessions are complemented by a poster session, networking opportunities and a vendor exhibition with over 40 exhibitors, including recently formed companies with new and disruptive technologies. This year's meeting will focus on taking new understanding derived from clinical observation and 'omics forward to identify and prosecute novel drug targets. The sessions will cover:

Technologies and strategies for novel target discovery

Novel targets in neuroscience

Technologies for novel target prosecution

Novel targets in oncology

Plenary Keynote Speakers

Professor Tony Kouzarides
Gurdon Institute and Milner
Therapeutics Institute

Iain Chessell
(VP Neuroscience IMED
